BIOGRAFIA BREVE

Enrico Maria Piras ha conseguito il dottorato di ricerca in "Information Systems and Organization" presso l'Università di Trento. Dal 2008 è ricercatore presso la Fondazione Bruno Kessler all'interno del centro di Digital Health e Wellbeing dove si occupa di sanità digitale in un gruppo interdisciplinare.
I suoi principali interessi di ricerca riguardano i mutamenti organizzativi, professionali e interpersonali legati all'adozione delle tecnologie dell'informazione e della comunicazione, con particolare riguardo alle nuove forme di relazione tra operatori sanitari e pazienti.
La sua ricerca è stata pubblicata in riviste nazionali e internazionali, sia strettamente sociologiche sia di area informatica e medica.
È editor associato di Sociology Compass, dove gestisce la sezione "Health & Science" e dal 2010 è docente a contratto presso l'Università degli Studi di Verona.
